Sir my Osmani, the Naraimgan deserves the promotion for which he has been recommended

He has for several years past been letting the B.A. Classes in Mathematics & the results have on the whole been satisfactory. It appears to me that his case is analogous to that of Mr Adolphus who was recently promoted to A.K. A hard and fast rule of the kind advocated by Mr Bhabha would not be quite fair to exceptionally talented

Submitted to His Highness

W. Coolie recommendation for ~~Marquardsen~~ of transfering Mr. Jn J Narayanyer to the next higher grade has been before for some time He is the Mathematical Professor of the Central College and he began to draw the maximum pay of the grade by 500 Rs from 1st Jan 1903. The question is whether he should be removed to the next higher grade at once. The recommendation is based upon a precedent which however is not on all fours with the present case. The Rao Bahadur English Professor of the Mysore Maharajas College was under similar circumstances promoted to the next grade from 400 to 700 Rs. The intervening pay of B I grade by 500 Rs is taken with the starting pay of A II grade by 400 Rs would show that the two grades are not steps of one

Continuous advancement but are differently constituted for different purposes. This difference was indi -cated by Mr Rhodes but there is no record to substantiate it - Mr Adolphus was very strongly recom -mended by Mr Jack to succeed Mr Greves who was then in A 2 grade but on account of Mr Cooke's objections another officer had to be selected Mr Adolphus who was very success ful in the results of the B A Exam. had to be shown some recognition and it was thought advisable to give him a special promotion - as this was graciously sanctioned by His Highness -

Regarding Mr R J Narayan his qualifications have been always recognised as being of a high order But he has work with a very small class at the might of Mathematics is taught both in Mysore & Bangalore - The available number of students is thus distributed between the two places and the energy and resources are frittered away in both The number of passes from both the classes is very small and it is in contemplation to amalgamate both these classes in one at College The University of Madras has in the meanwhile appointed a Commission for inspecting all the affiliated Colleges and both our institutions in Bangor & Ryegate were inspected by them within the last few days.

Their report is awaited - From the conversations I had with Dr Bourne (President) it seems they seemed to be contemplating to recommend the reduction of one of the Colleges - No decision had been adopted but the thoughts were running in that direction - It does not seem expedient to make any permanent increase to the pay of our Professors and the Council accordingly decided to put off the question of our Harmer's promotion for the present - He has attained to the maximum of his present grade only recently and his further promotion is not very imminent - He is now doubt a very deserving officer but the work he is doing is less in comparison with that of Mr Ashby The question may be renewed after the report of the Inspection Commission is received

My dear Sir Krishna Murty

When I mentioned to you a short time ago that Mr M T Narasimhaiyar had been asking me to represent to you his request for promotion to the same class as Mr Adolphus had been recently advanced to, you were good enough to ask me to let you have a comparative statement of the B.A Mathematical results for Bangalore & Mysore. I have now much pleasure in sending you the same & from these figures it will be seen that Mr Narasimhaiyar's work compares very favourably indeed with the Mathematical work done in the Mysore College. Of course the absolute numbers taking up Mathematics are comparatively small in all the Colleges and the subject is mainly responsible for that

If you are persuaded by these pgmes to consider my humanizings deserving of promotion to the same class as my adolphus I shall be very pleased as he has been always a most regular and conscientious teacher His whole length of service is over 15 years
His Present-grade is B I Rs 300
—25— Rs 500
His Present-Pay is Rs 475
His Length of Service in the present Grade is over 5 years
The Grade to which he expects promotion is A-II Rs 400
—50— Rs 700

Sam Yours sincerely
